The people that were being blamed and made to pay for the wrongdoings of others. The people who didn't set any fire but were compelled to feel the heat of the inferno set by others. INTERACTIVE ASSESSMENT QUESTIONS

1. Write a paraphrase of any of the Stanzas in the poem.

Correct Answer

Stanza 1: The first stanza outlines different ways in which people respond to melancholy. They can take poison or drink from the ancient river of Lethe (it causes the drinker to forget whatever is troubling them). John Keats further says in the poem that people should not try to numb their melancholy arguing that it is closely related to beauty at first hand. He says trying to numb their melancholy will make them overwhelmed by their sadness instead.

Stanza 2: The speaker tells what to do in a melancholic state in place of the things he forbade in the first stanza. The advice given is that such a person in a melancholic state should overwhelm his sorrow with natural beauty, glutting it on the morning rose or in the eyes of his beloved.

Stanza 3: In this stanza, the speaker explains that pleasure and pain are linked. The speaker says that the shrine of melancholy is inside the “temple of Delight,” but that it is only visible if one can overwhelm oneself with joy until it reveals its center of sadness, by “burst[ing] Joy’s grape against his palate fine.” The man who can do this shall “taste the sadness” of melancholy’s might and “be among her cloudy trophies hung.”

Explanation

The paraphrasing above is only used as examples to the students. It is however essential that paraphrasing be done in grammatically correct sentences as mentioned earlier.

Ungrammatical sentences and sentences not carrying the idea of the poem are incorrect.

INTERACTIVE ASSESSMENT QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

INTERACTIVE ASSESSMENT QUESTIONS

1. Read and paraphrase the book The Lion and the Jewel by Wole Soyinka.

Correct Answer

Lion and the Jewel by Wole Soyinka tells the story of Sidi, a young lady living in a village in the western part of Nigeria in the 1960s, as she decides who to marry. Her choices are Lakunle, a poor but young schoolteacher who does not believe in the ancient ways of marriage, and Baroka, the old Baale of the village who is ready to follow tradition to the letter. She does not seem interested in both men, the former because he refuses to pay her bride price and the latter because of his age. She became more arrogant when her picture surfaced on the front page of a magazine and all effort by Sadiku, the first wife and chief matchmaker of Baroka, to make her marry Baroka willingly proved abortive. Baroka devised a means to get her to his palace and it worked- he feigned impotence and Sidi gullibly went to his palace and into his room with the mind that he is impotent. Baroka forced himself into her and deflowered her and that made it possible for Baroka to marry her eventually.

Explanation

The above is the paraphrase of the whole text and students can write in their own grammatically correct sentences.

Any answer that is not grammatical, not brief enough, or/and not carrying the idea of the passage is considered incorrect.

INTERACTIVE ASSESSMENT QUESTIONS

1. Write an expository essay on the effects of drug abuse.

Correct Answer

EFFECTS OF DRUG ABUSE

The abuse of drugs in society is not a new phenomenon. It is something we see and hear almost on daily basis. Though drug abuse consists of just two words, those two words have destroyed the lives of millions of people all over the globe. Some do not realize it early until they start experiencing the devastating consequences.

One of the effects of drug abuse is addiction. A person could consume an improper amount of a particular drug until his or her body gets accustomed to it then it graduates to a point where the body system fails to function naturally without taking drugs. What an unpleasant way of life!

Abusing drugs has also been the leading cause of numerous ailments. High intake of marijuana, hemp, codeine, tobacco to mention but few have been linked to deadly diseases like cancer, cardiac arrest, paranoia, emphysema, chronic bronchitis, etc. A countless number of young people have cut their lives short while others have received their death sentence from drug abuse. Needless to talk about those who have a terrible ailment to nurse as they die slowly at every passing hour.

Moreover, drug abusers tend to have behavioural problems. Drugs that stimulate such as cocaine and cannabis, depressants which decrease mental alertness such as alcohol and heroin can make people exhibit abnormal behaviour. Even hallucinogens such as tramadol and marijuana cause users to behave in societally unacceptable manners.

However, drug abuse is not a death sentence despite the negative effects stated above if help is sought early enough. The family and society at large need to join hands to help drug abusers overcome this grave challenge.

Explanation

The essay should be written using the answer as a guide. Care must be taken to link paragraphs appropriately and also make use of well-constructed sentences.

Any deviation from the subject matter or ungrammatical sentences will not be accepted.

1. Write a letter to the general manager of Akinde stores complaining about their new product.

Correct Answer

The General Manager,
Akindé Stores,
Ibeju-Lekki.

Dear Madam,

Complaints on Products

I wish to bring to your notice my displeasure about your new product which was launched three weeks back.

Firstly, the materials used in producing the throw pillow is quite inferior and far below standard. This makes it tear easily and the sewn parts also loosen quickly. I am so disappointed to see that from the first day of use it started losing and on the first wash it faded out. This is not impressive.

The second grievance is that the size of the throw pillow is too small compared to the 3D pictures I was shown and the images I saw online. I was so disappointed seeing the delivery that I had to shout at the delivery personnel thinking he delivered the wrong parcel to me and had delivered my parcel to someone else.

Finally, I will like to tell you that the design is really outdated compared to what other stores are selling. There are more beautiful designs out there that I feel we can borrow a leaf from.

I hope that all these complaints will be taken into consideration and the necessary step and actions taken in this regard.

WRITING FOR DIFFERENT AUDIENCES

INTERACTIVE ASSESSMENT QUESTIONS

1. Write a letter to your grandma telling her why you could not visit or call her during the festive season.

Correct Answer

15, Shomolu Street,
Apata,
Ibeju-Lekki,
Lagos.
20th April, 2020.

Dear Grandma,

It has really been a while I saw you or heard from you. I hope you are getting better after your last cataract surgery. I was sincerely bitter when I heard you are going in for another surgery but I couldn't reach you then because my parents took my phone from me thinking it will distract me since I was preparing for an external examination. I am writing this letter because I feel obliged to let you know why you are yet to see me or hear from especially after your surgery.

Like I said earlier, I was preparing for my external examination and that was the first reason I couldn't make it down to the village during the festive season to see you. I have been reading voraciously so that I can make you proud and that has been taking my time a whole lot. So many times, I don't sleep until midnight and I still have to wake up as early as 4:30 am to start preparing for school because we have started our morning classes in preparation for the examination.

More so, we just moved into a new apartment which is very far from the previous one. I get home everyday tired and worn out but still have to attend to my house chores, you know mum won't take no for an answer. That doesn't allow me to write when I get back home. I would have written to you earlier.

It is important that I also let you know that I have been sick for a while now. I guess my body is just adjusting to the stress of travelling to and from school and also the new environment. I am getting better now anyway and that is why I can write this letter.

Darling grandma, I promise to come to visit you soon because I have actually missed you more than you can imagine. Our gist continues when next I see you. Till then, take care of yourself and be strong for us.

Yours sincerely,
Esther

Explanation

The above is a sample of the expected outcome. It can be used as a guide. Students must write in grammatically correct sentences.

Ungrammatical constructions and bad arrangements nullify an answer.

REVISING REPORT WRITING

INTERACTIVE ASSESSMENT QUESTIONS

1. Write a report of an accident you witnessed.

Correct Answer

An Accident I Witnessed

It was an eventful Saturday, so many parties happening here and there as though that day was tagged “Partying Saturday.” I was not left out of the mood because I had to also attend my distant cousin’s wedding ceremony and my grandmother’s 80th birthday celebration on the same day. I was quite lucky because the two events were happening at different times of the day. The former was in the morning while the latter was a dinner and the venues were close to each other.

I set out very early because I have cultivated a habit of not going anywhere late, not even a party. I was undeniably excited about the two events maybe because I naturally like to party but the excitement soon disappeared at a gory sight that visited me before getting to the first event.

I was already at the park to board a bus at 5:00 am since I was going to Ibadan from Lagos. I was so lucky not to miss the bus or so I thought because I happened to be the last passenger that was carried before the turn of the next bus. At 5:05 am, we were already on our way to Ibadan.

On getting to the expressway, we saw a truck running at an uncontrollable speed, the brake had obviously failed and suddenly, he ran into an oncoming ten-seater bus on the other side of the road. Everyone was shocked and surprised at the terrible damage that occurred at that instant. There were already five dead bodies whose look could no longer be figured out because they had been terribly disfigured. The most horrible was the sight of a pregnant woman who was almost due for delivery. I couldn’t behold the sight. So I left the scene and stood far away.

Not long after, an ambulance came around and all the dead bodies were taken to the mortuary while the injured ones were taken to the hospital for treatment.

I couldn’t attend the party again. I left the scene and went back home. I also couldn’t narrate my ordeal to anyone because I was still in shock. The next day, I called my parents and told them what happened and they told me they already saw it in the news.

Since then, I have realized that an accident is the most unplanned and unprecedented event in the world.

Explanation

The above is simply a sample format for students to follow. Grammatical construction, arrangement, and content are very important and must be checked thoroughly.

Ungrammatical sentences or bad arrangement of points will be penalized in writing.
